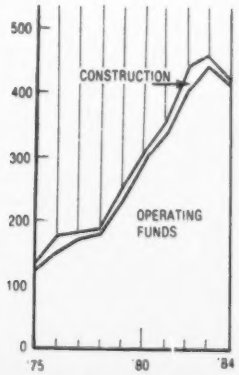
DHS state funding
FY 1975—1984



Much of the increased state funding for DHS during the period charted above was used for construction costs, particularly at the teaching hospitals, and for increases in programs such as Medicaid payments.

The sales tax declined more than $61 million from 1982 to 1984 as the recession hit Oklahoma. The Legislature made special appropriations advances and loans to moderate the loss in state funding to DHS.
